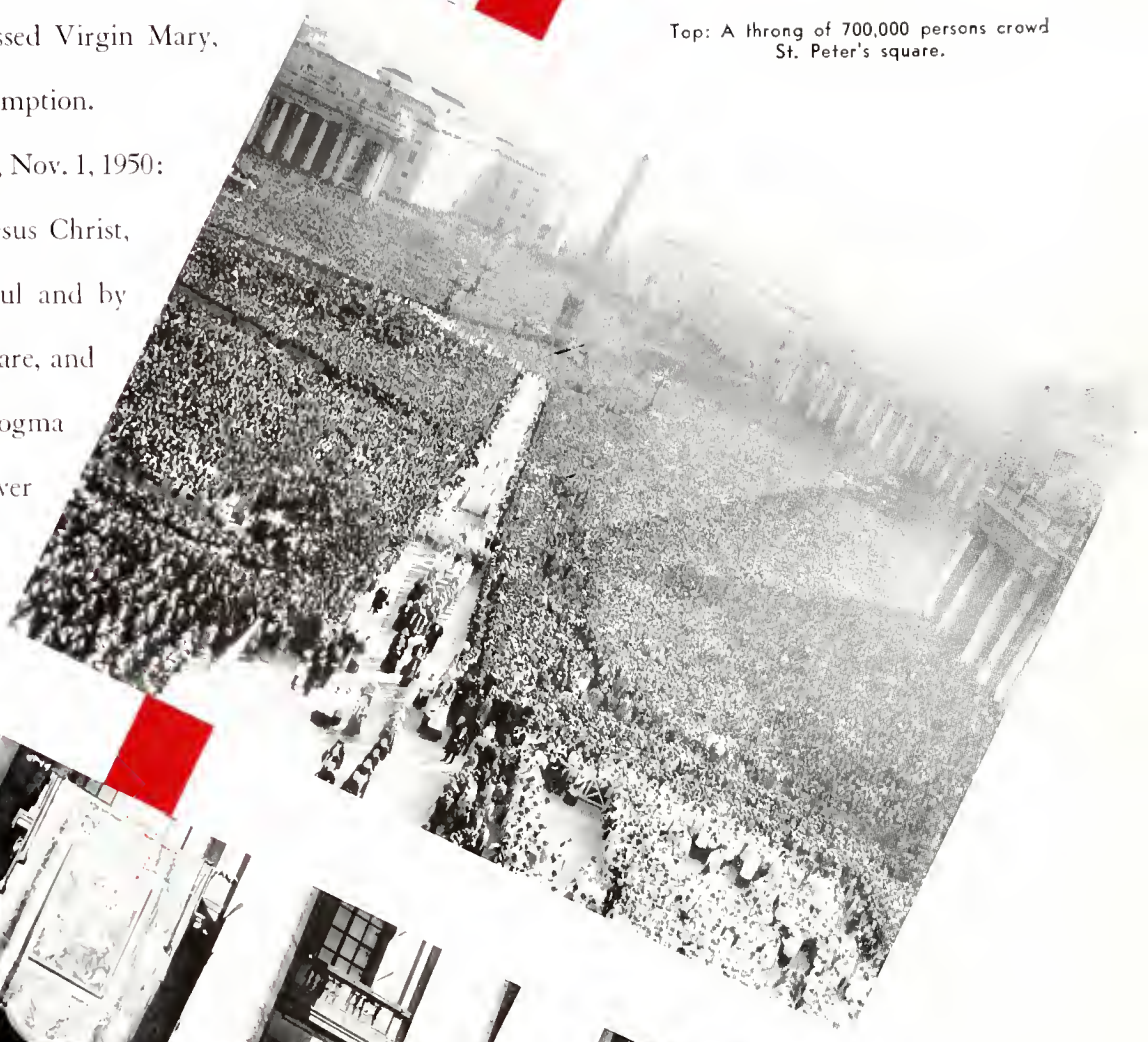
WE DEDICATE

this book to the Blessed Virgin Mary, in honor of her Assumption.

Excerpt from the definition by Pius XII, Nov. 1, 1950:

" . . . by the authority of Our Lord Jesus Christ, of the Blessed Apostles Peter and Paul and by our own authority, we pronounce, declare, and define that it is a divinely revealed dogma that the Immaculate Mother of God, ever Virgin Mary, when the course of her earthly life was finished, was taken up body and soul into heavenly glory."



Top: A throng of 700,000 persons crowd St. Peter's square.

Right Bottom: Pius XII says the Pontificial Mass to conclude the ceremony of the definition of the Assumption dogma.

CAN you remember the first time you walked up the horse-shoe? That first day began a whole chain of events which comprised the good old college days. How would you like to relive your Freshman days? Well, you can do so by following Ida Chirieleison and Sonny Mialeret, two Freshmen. We of the WOLF staff are going to show Ida and Sonny around the campus. They'll meet Father President, the Deans and Regents and the Faculty. They'll get a panoramic view of a year full of activities. They'll meet new friends and recognize old ones within the pages of this 1951 WOLF. But without further ado, let's be off . . . won't you come along too?

Loyola R.O.T.C. passes in review

LOYAL, LOYOLA, WITH THY LOYALTY.

IDA and Sonny were chosen as two typical Freshmen, for in them one can see the promise of a Jesuit education: scholarship and leadership. Ida is president of the Pep Club and has been instrumental in promoting cheering at the basketball games; she is a member of LSL also. She was active in Frosh Initiation Week. Sonny is an A.B. student and president of his Freshman class; he belongs to SAK and St. Thomas Aquinas Sodality. Ida and Sonny have done quite well when it comes to class marks. Both Freshmen are known throughout the campus for their affability and likeable personalities. We of the WOLF think that Ida and Sonny are indeed exemplary first year students.

THE PRESIDENT

Ida and Sonny, meet Father Thomas J. Shields, President of the University. It is not often you will see Father Shields for he is a very busy man. Tall, graying, Father Shields is a native of New Orleans. He earned his A.B. at St. Stanislaus College in Macon and his A.M. at Gonzaga University in Spokane. He was ordained a priest in 1931. Father taught at Spring Hill and served as pastor of Holy Name Church from 1935-37. He was also Provincial Superior of the Southern Province of the Jesuit Order from 1937-44, after which he became President of Loyola. He has served at this post since 1945.

DEAN OF FACULTIES

Youthful Father George Bergen, S.J., replacing Father Crandell as Dean of Faculties, stepped into his new position this year and has very capably wrestled with the numerous problems of curriculum and faculty. Father Bergen, who is also Vice-President of the University, Alumni Advisor, and a member of the Board of Directors, has helped to improve Loyola academically and physically. Father was graduated from Spring Hill College with an A.B. degree; he earned his M.A. in English from St. Louis University in 1941. He is a Philadelphian by birth and was ordained in 1947. Two years later he came to Loyola.

DEAN OF MEN

Father Anthony O'Flynn, S.J., took over as Dean of Men this year in the station previously occupied by Father Guterl. Friendly Father O'Flynn's office is the clearing house for innumerable student complaints, dates for meetings and other problems which seem insoluble. Father also serves as Athletic Moderator on the campus and is Regional Chaplain of NFCCS. He is a native of Washington, D. C. and received his A.B. from Springhill in 1941, and his M.A. in English from Catholic University in 1943. Father was ordained in 1948.

FEATURES...

Each pup has his day but the week of initiation in September wasn't the Freshman's. The first experience of many of the class of '54 will undoubtedly remain vivid for quite a long while. The "dogs" had to comply with any reasonable request of upperclassmen. Many of the requests were barely reasonable. Some of the stunts pulled off by the older students included carrying loads of books, running errands, singing the "Alma Mater" and the "Fight Song" and ringing a school bell around the campus. The climax came at the Kangaroo Kourt at which time there were more pies thrown than in a Keystone comedy. Retribution for the Frosh came a few weeks later when the tables were turned and the upperclassmen were the victims.

Beth Tetlow is on the receiving end of Phil Meunier's pie. Roland Mestayer is holding Beth.

Mixed expressions from the Freshmen at Kangaroo Kourt.

Top: An egg is about to drop as a Frosh penalty.

Right Middle: Those feet belong to an upperclassman.

Bottom: The Frosh have their day. Upperclassmen bow before Frosh.

In the latter part of November, fourteen of Loyola's loveliest coeds competed in a close vote to decide the 1951 Campus Queen and her court. Miss Jacqueline Carriere drew the highest number of popular votes while Miss Inez Conzelmann was second in the election. Although only 30 per cent of the student body cast their votes, the election was significant for it marked a separation from the antiquated method of a-penny-a-vote.

TALENT NITE

13 was a lucky birthday for Blue Key's Annual Talent Nite held this year on December 8, 1950. A capacity crowd filled the Municipal Auditorium to be entertained by the four-hour program. Quality and quantity combined to make a talent-filled night of music and comedy. Wise-cracking MC Henry Asher introduced the entertainers and did an admirable job by keeping the audience laughing between acts. Quite an innovation this year was the faculty skit which parodied life in the BA school offices. The actors in the skit were all faculty members and their skit drew plaudits from all.

LT. COLONEL CHARLES POST
Commandant of the Battalion

In the fourth year at Loyola the Reserve Officers Training Corps has gained quite a name for itself. This is the second year that compulsory participation in Loyola's battalion of Military Police has been in effect for many of the University's freshmen. Under this plan freshmen of the Colleges of Arts and Sciences and Business Administration must schedule two years of military training. This is the basic course. The advanced course consists of more specialized training for those with proper basic qualification. For students who have completed the specified requirements and have done excellent work in military science appointments and commissions to the regular army may be given upon graduation. This year Lt. Colonel Post assumed the responsibilities of Commandant of the battalion with Major Yamber second in command. Most of last year's army staff is still at Loyola. Tuesday is ROTC day at Loyola, for the reservists have a dress parade and retreat ceremonies every week. Students of military science learn numerous skills of the modern soldier ranging from basic first aid, map-reading, and care of the M-1 rifle, to riot dispersal and traffic problems. Highlight of the reserve officer's course is the annual summer camp which is obligatory for advanced students.

An innovation in the ROTC this year was the formation of an honorary organization to equal campus fraternities. This organization is called the Provost Corps and is one of the very few chapters in the United States. It is honorary in that prospective members must be reserve officers who have maintained a "B" average in military science and at least a "C" average in all other subjects. The Corps was formed with a social purpose also. Members are admitted to the Corps by application and election and with such admission procedure the prestige of the group is assured. Members were extremely influential in promoting the ROTC dance during the Yule season in 1950. The reservists planned an Induction Dance to climax their activities for '51.

Col. Post explains a problem in Military tactics to an eager group of advanced students.

The 1951 WOLF is presented in the sincere hope that in the future years, you, looking back, will recapture the memory and the spirit of this year at Loyola—the laughs, the worries, the atmosphere of the campus and the people on it. They are all here whenever you care to recall them. The staff has worked all year to give you this record of campus life. Our labor will be well spent and generously rewarded if it brings you in the future the enjoyment that comes from the remembrance of old friends and happy times.

THE STUDENT RETREAT...

The annual student retreat is intended to further the spiritual development of the students. This year, in order to obtain a better withdrawal from the cares of student life, all students were obliged to make week-end retreats. During this time of meditation and prayer the student came closer to God and was able to reflect on his past life and make plans for the future. A limited number of the men went to Manresa, and the co-eds travelled to Lafayette for closed retreats.

Mention a Wednesday night date to a Maroon staffer and chances are you'll draw a dagger-stare or blood. The reason is simple: no one—well, hardly anyone—does anything but write and sweat on "dummy-night", the night on which the Maroon is put together.

And this year, the Maroon's 38th in recording Loyola history, Wednesday nights apparently were fruitful ones, as any faithful reader will attest. Under the amiable guidance of Carroll Trosclair in the Fall Semester and Mickey Toppino in the Spring, the Maroon staff turned out a top-notch newspaper all around, news-wise, sports-wise, editorial-wise. Here, then, is a vote of confidence in our All-American Maroon—may its crusading banners be held high in the coming years.

N F C C S

The Southeast Region of the National Federation of Catholic College Students was formed in 1948. Loyola University is the largest school in the region. Other member schools are Dominican, Ursuline, Xavier, and Sacred Heart College of Grand Coteau.

The NFCCS has for its purpose the integrating of work among schools in various sections of the country, and through this means it is hoped that better understanding and good-will will result among all Catholic College students.

The organization of the NFCCS is brought about and sustained by the work of Commissions. In the Southeast Region we find three active commissions: the Inter-American, the Mariology, and the Interracial.

Loyola is active in the Inter-American and the Interracial Commissions, and had the chair of the latter this year. The Interracial Commission has achieved national recognition, and its paper, "The Christian Conscience" is highly regarded. Ed Kammerer and Austin Welsh, campus delegates, deserve praise for the work they have done.

It is worth noting that the NFCCS is the only national student-run organization of its kind with which Loyola is affiliated.

Most Reverend Louis A. Caillouet, D.D., presents awards to Ruth Burke of Mount Carmel and Norris Fitzmorris of Loyola, on Interracial Day.

EDW. D. WHITE DEBATING SOCIETY

With a greatly increased membership this year, the Edward Douglas White Debating Society continued its excellent work of previous years.

The society held two non-decision debates with L. S. U. and one debate with Princeton on the topic, "Resolved: that the non-Communist nations unite to form a new international organization." Princeton won the decision by a vote of two to one.

For the first time in its history the society had an all-girl debating team which included Gladys Aleman, Caroline Cleveland, Ida Chirieleison, and Sally McNamara. This group held two non-decision debates with L. S. U. The varsity debaters, Norris Fitzmorris, Rene Pastorek, and Bill Redmann, toured three Eastern states in April and returned to Loyola with two wins, four defeats, and four non-decision counts. The victories were over American U. in Washington and University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. Debates were held also with Catholic U., Fordham, Columbia, Georgetown and Temple.

The Law School Council consists of two members from each of the three three classes. Election is held in the second semester of the first year and the officers selected hold office for the remainder of their time in the Law School.

The Council prepares the examination schedules and meets with the faculty for discussion of possible curriculum changes. Occasionally, social activities are planned by the Council. The organization has been in operation for about ten years performing these functions.

EDWIN P. FRICKE

The fact that Loyola has attached three Gulf States Conference Crowns to its already impressive record is testimony enough of the ability of our athletic staff. In spite of the fact that Father O'-Flynn and Coach Haggerty were new in their jobs at Loyola, their performances have been creditable and indicative of future success.

Congratulations must be given also to Edwin P. Fricke, Publicity Director of athletics and live wire of the newly created Public Relations Department.

Coach Haggerty's first year effected no great change in Loyola's basketball rating in the Gulf Conference. However, the long boys in the short pants made it apparent to even the casual observer that a "New Deal" is in the making.

Though they didn't have the "games won" record of a champion, they were abundantly supplied with that material from which champions are made—plucky aggressiveness, team spirit, and a will to win.

Although their season's record is 15 won and 12 lost, they lost eight of those games by less than five points.

All things considered, if Loyola's season has not been a winning one, it has been successful; an inexperienced team has been groomed for better things to come.

THE LOYOLA FROSH

Replacing what used to be Loyola Wolf Pups, our Frosh team turned in a commendable performance.

Slow starters, McCafferty's boys soon gathered a momentum which carried them into the finals of the Southern Amateur Athletic Union tournament. McCafferty may well be proud and Haggerty hopeful over this year's frosh team.

Best performances were turned in by Ernie Smith, Pete Vosbein, and Ronnie Reynoir.

BASEBALL AT LOYOLA

PLAY BALL . . . Loyola's Gulf States Conference baseball champions are poised for the coming campaign.

Runnersup last year, the boys with the heavy hickory sticks pounded their way through the best of competition to the G. S. C. championship crown. Jack Orsley's spirited crew performed with a determination and will to win that is characteristic of all Loyola nines.

Money Caballero was the team's top man at the plate while Moon Landrieu was best among the pitchers. No account of the season could be considered complete without mention of the all-around team play of freshman performer, Huey Bridges. His pitching, fielding, and power at the plate were contributing factors in Loyola's initial capturing of the G. S. C. crown.

Loyola garnered first places in the Discus—Rocker; the 100 Yard Dash—Grundmeyer; 440 Yard Relay; 880 Yard Relay; 220 Yard Dash—Grundmeyer; Pole Vault—Roland Hymel; Broad Jump—Varela; Shot Put—Rocker; and a three-way tie for the High Jump—Prinz. Senator Estes Kefauver has nothing on these racketeers, they are the G. S. C. champions. With victories over every Conference team, and losses only to such tennis strongholds as the University of Miami and the University of Virginia, Loyola garnered the G. S. C. laurel wreath for the third time this year.

Some results of conference play in which Loyola triumphed are: Northwestern Louisiana College, 9-0; Mississippi Southern, 8-1; Southwestern, 9-0; Spring Hill, 7-0.

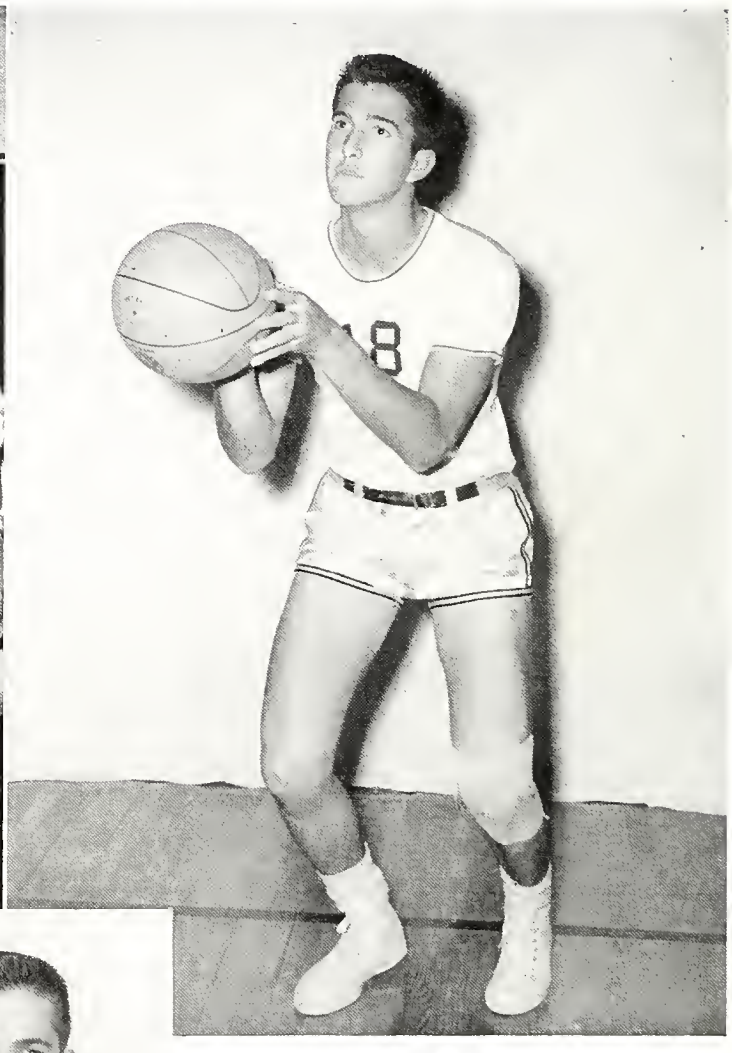
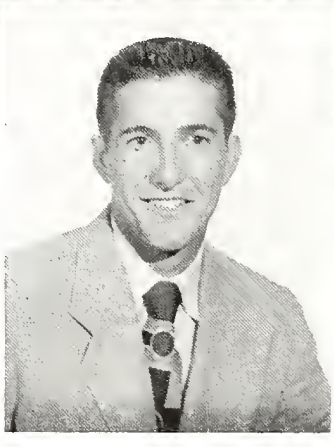
HONORS FOR CARL





CARL LAVIE

Above: Mr. Robert Ainsworth, state senator, presents a scroll from Mayor Morrison declaring February 26 as "Carl Lavie Day".

For three years Carl Lavie has been an outstanding performer and consistent high-scorer. Stamina, sportsmanship, and skill on the court are qualities which have been outstanding in Loyola's "Mr. Basketball." City-wide recognition for Carl was made on February 26 which Mayor Morrison declared "Carl Lavie Day" in New Orleans. Carl, a Varsity forward, played in twenty-seven games; his total points amounted to 351. Climax of his cage career at Loyola was his election to a berth on the All-Gulf States Conference team.

Keen competition and wholesome recreation are shared by all of Loyola's intramural bowlers. Meeting Sunday every week, the keglers eagerly tabulated strikes, spares, and other points in the race for high-point makers.

O'Shaughnessy's Alleys was the scene of the bowlers' successes and disappointments. Results of the season's downed pins were given at the annual dance for the bowlers at Jim's Plaza in May. The "All-Stars," outstanding team, also won a city championship. George Kelly, league member, placed high in city competition.

Time Means Opportunity

" Do not squander TIME, for that is the stuff life is made of"

Those who learn early the value of using their time to good advantage are on the right road to become successful . . . And, when it comes to making plans for the future, Youthful Industry will find that the long-time experience of the Whitney is a very helpful ally.
